HOLLYWOOD MURDER MYSTERY IS REVIVED AFTER FIFTEEN YEARS

MOTHER OF MARY MILES MINTER IS AGAIN FIGURING IN TAYLOR CASE

LOS ANGELES, May 6.—(AP)—The county grand jury today began a renewed probe into the baffling death of William Desmond Taylor by quizzing Margaret Fillmore, sister of Mary Miles Minter, "darling" of the silent screen.

Waiting their turn to appear before the jury and tell what they know of the 15-year-old puzzle, were Miss Minter and her mother, Mrs. Charlotte Shelby.

The bitterness within the family ranks was evidenced just before Mrs. Fillmore went into the jury room. In the corridor, Mrs. Shelby spoke to her oldest daughter.

"My Margaret," she said, and held out her hand.

Mrs. Fillmore ignored the gesture and proceeded into the jury room.

Shortly before, Mrs. Shelby expressed delight that the never-ending investigation of the ace film director's death had again been revived.

Her statement was made in the office of her attorney, Clyde Murphy. Mrs. Shelby and her two daughters, Miss Minter and Mrs. Margaret Shelby Fillmore, have been summoned to appear before the grand jury in the renewed investigation of Hollywood's most baffling case, the shooting of Taylor, noted director, 15 years ago.

The investigation followed a deposition made by Mrs. Fillmore in a civil action against Mrs. Shelby in which she charges her mother took $48,000 from a Los Angeles safety deposit box.

The statement follows:

"I am delighted that Mr. Fitts responed so quickly to my request to reopen the investigation of the Taylor murder case. For the past 15 years there have been many rumors circulated, innumerable threats against me and now comes practically a formal charge by my own daughter, Mrs. Margaret Shelby Fillmore, to the effect I withheld important facts and she assisted me in withholding them from the authorities.

Demands Facts Be Disclosed.

"If she or any other person has any facts concerning the murder of William Desmond Taylor,

Farmer Kills Wife and Man He Found With Her

DECATUR, May 6.—(AP)—A second murder complaint was filed today against G. F. Harris, 52, who admitted to officers he shot to death his wife and a neighbor when he found them together yesterday. Assistant County Attorney F. W. Burton prepared the charges, filed before Justice of the Peace Tom McCracken.

Harris was charged with the murder of Ruth Harris, 46, his wife. Ernest Taylor, 45, farmer living near the Harris home, died of head wounds a few hours after the shooting.

Harris said he discovered his wife and the man in a ravine near his home and shot after calling Taylor by name. Mrs. Harris died instantly. Harris walked two miles to a phone, he said, and called officers. He told Burton and Sheriff George Young he had discussed the affair with his wife and Taylor and had agreed to leave her.

When he came home yesterday from his part-time PWA job, he said, he discovered his wife was gone. He borrowed a shotgun and shortly afterward found the pair together.

PRECAUTIONS BEING TAKEN TO SAFEGUARD EDWARD AND WALLY

FEARED BOMB MAY COME THROUGH MAILS AS WEDDING GIFTS FOR COUPLE

By LOUIS MATZHOLD

MONTS, France, May 6.—(AP)—Special precautions were taken today to safeguard the Duke of Windsor and Wallis Warfield Simpson from the possibility of receiving a bomb disguised as a wedding gift.

Police kept close watch of all packages addressed to the Chateau De Cande where Windsor and his bride-to-be are reunited, and none are delivered that Mrs. Simpson is not sure of.

She inspects them carefully and if the sender's return address is not familiar she instructs that they be returned unopened.

Windsor's narrowing waist line in the five months of his athletic exile in Austria created two problems for the household, bustling with activity for the still secret—or undecided—day when Edward will marry the woman for whom he gave up an empire.

Sources close to the former sovereign said he was contemplating a quick shopping trip to Paris to replenish his wardrobe. His newly-acquired slimness, they said, is the main reason that he can no longer wear many of the suits he brought with him from England.

Problem number two is Edward's diet. Mrs. Simpson is said to be concerned over his loss of weight and the problem of cooking special dishes so that he may gain at least eight pounds.

The Duke was said to have composed the tune to which he and Mrs. Simpson will march to the altar.

The Duke played the march on his bagpipe last night for his bride-to-be, and the turreted Chateau De Cande, their premarriage retreat, echoed to the shrill music.

Wedding Plans Virtually Complete

Preparations for the marriage, meanwhile, seemed virtually ready for the ceremony soon after Edward's brother, George VI, is crowned in London next Wednesday.

The Duke and Duchess of Kent (the Duchess is the former Princess Marina of Greece) and the Earl and Countess of Harewood (the Countess is Edward's sister, Mary, the Princess Royal) may be the only representatives of Britain's royal family at the wedding, a source close to the Chateau De Cande said.

Soon after the wedding the

Denhardt Jury Unable To Agree And Discharged

NEW CASTLE, Ky., May 6.—(AP)—The jury trying Brig. Gen. Henry H. Denhardt was discharged in circuit court today after failing to decide since 5:25 p. m. Tuesday whether or not the bald, portly ex-lieutenant governor shot to death his fiancee, Mrs. Verna Garr Taylor.

The jurors, 11 farmers and a filling station operator, reported they had stood seven for acquittal and five for conviction. Each juror was polled and each confirmed the deadlock. Judge Charles C. Marshall thanked them for their "careful" attention throughout the 14 days of testimony and arguments. He asked each juror not to disclose how the other individuals had voted because, he explained, "this case will have to be tried over again."

The 61-year-old defendant, pale and unshaven, listened intently as each juror said that in his opinion there was no chance to agree on a verdict.

World's Greatest Romance Nears Its Climax

MRS. WALLIS SIMPSON

From Fort Belvedere

With the recent granting of a final divorce decree to Wallis Warfield Simpson and the rushing of the former king of England, now the Duke of Windsor, from his Austrian retreat to the Chateau de Cande, near Monts, France, to join the "woman I love," for whom he abdicated as ruler of the world's greatest empire, an early marriage of the couple is anticipated. It has been contended, however, that the marriage will not occur until after the May 12 coronation of King George VI, as Edward apparently does not wish to do anything that will dampen the spirits of the royal family on that great occasion.

HINDENBURG BURST INTO FLAMES WHILE PREPARING TO LAND

THIRTY-ONE PASSENGERS AND CREW OF SIXTY-ONE ABOARD ZEPPELIN

By ROBERT OKIN

LAKEHURST, N. J., May 6.—(AP)—The giant dirigible Hindenburg burst into flames and sank to the ground a twisted, blazing wreck early tonight as it was nearing the ground preparatory to mooring with approximately 100 persons aboard.

The big ship had cruised overhead more than an hour waiting for a rain storm to clear to permit a mooring and was preparing to come down when suddenly there was a terrific explosion and burst of flames.

Immediately it telescroped and sank quickly to the ground amid the shrieks of many persons gathered to witness the arrival of the huge airship of the first of her eighteen trips to the United States planned for the year.

How many were killed or injured could not be immediately determined.

Trucks speeded toward the wreckage with screaming sirens.

Spectators were weeping and shouting hysterically.

The ship used hydrogen, a highly explosive gas.

Those aboard the zeppelin included 31 passengers and a crew of 61, including several lighter than air students and the first doctor ever assigned to a zeppelin.

Observers timed the explosion at 6:20 p. m. (eastern standard time).

First reports listed the survivors as including Clifford Osbun of Chicago, Joseph Spahs, and Philip Mongon among the survivors.

All available cars and trucks were commandeered to speed to hospitals those taken from the wreckage.

A police radio appeal was broadcast from nearby Freehold for all ambulances and fire apparatus in Monmouth county to rush to Lakehurst.

LAKEHURST, N. J., May 6.—(AP)—The big German zeppelin Hindenburg burst into flames today as it prepared to alight at the naval air station on her first crossing of the year.

Aboard the Hindenburg were 31 passengers, a crew of 61, including several students.

The giant ship had tossed her nose lines to the ground in a light shower when suddenly there was a terrific burst of flame from her stern.

The sound of the explosion and the flames brought shrieks from many spectators who had gathered to see the ship complete her twenty-first safe crossing between the United States and Germany.

Immediately afterward the great ship collapsed and fell.

Within a few moments there was nothing but a twisted steel frame collapsed on the ground.

No estimate of the injured or dead was available immediately.

The ship was in command of Captain Max Pruss, former first officer. Captain Ernst A. Lehmann, who commanded the ship on its crossings last year, was aboard in an advisory capacity.

SENATE DEBATED MOTION OVERRIDE GOVERNOR'S VETO

HOUSE CLEARS WAY FOR CONSIDERATION ELEEMOSYNARY APPROPRIATIONS BILL

AUSTIN, May 6.—(AP)—The senate engaged in spirited debate today on a motion to override Gov. James V. Allred's veto of a bill exempting merchant-owned trucks from the contract carrier classification.

Pending at the noon recess was a motion to postpone action until May 12. Advocates of the motion said that would give time for an attempt to draft a substitute bill which would meet with the governor's approval.

The house had voted nearly 4 to 1 to override.

The house cleared the way for floor consideration of te eleemosynary appropriation bill. It had acted on only one of the five major money measures while the senate had taken action on four of them.

The legislature sent the governor a bill authorizing conversion of most of Padre Island into a state park. Action became final with house concurrence in senate amendments.

Governor Allred signed a bill giving women equal representation with men on the state Democratic executive committee. Membership of the committee would be increased from 31 to 62.

A bill designed to end the controversy over location of the new state pardon board became a law through being filed without the governor's signature. It appropriated $19,575 for expenses of the board until Sept. 1, with two of the board members to be located here and the other one at Huntsville, site of the main penitentiary.

Bills signed by the governor included one creating the San Antonio river canal and conservancy district and another authorizing the San Antonio school district to

Sulphur Springs Youths Killed In Automobile Crash

SULPHUR SPRINGS, May 6.—(AP)—V. L. Bryant, 18, and Otis Williamson, 22, were killed today when their auto crashed into a concrete abutment two miles east of here. Joe Mack Whitmer, 20, another occupant of the machine, is in a hospital here in a critical condition.

All three resided in Sulphur Springs. Bryant was yell leader and a member of the senior class at Sulphur Springs high school. Williamson formerly was football manager.

ARMY APPROPRIATION BILL IS EXPECTED OVERRIDE ECONOMY PLANS NOW SWEEPING CONGRESS

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON, May 6.—(AP)—The second half of a national defense fund, which appears likely to override congressional economy sentiment to become the largest in peacetime history, is ready for consideration by the senate appropriations committee.

Members said today they would start work on an appropriation bill for the army as soon as they complete study of one for the agriculture department.

The house voted to grant the army $416,413,382. Congress has made $526,258,808 available for the navy in the year starting July 1.

Their total of $942,672,190 is $23,193,874 larger than the appropriations for the present year, which set a record for peacetime.

Together the measures will supply money for sizable expansion of the manpower and equipment of the nation's armed forces.

Although the naval appropriation act provides $1,843,724 less than the current appropriation, it will permit the navy in the coming fiscal year to:

Start the construction of eight more destroyers and four submarines.

Continue building 2 battleships, 2 aircraft carriers, 11 cruisers, 48 destroyers, 16 submarines and a gunboat.

Improve the battle efficiency of a number of combatant craft.

Buy or contract for 397 airplanes and 2 non-rigid airships.

Begin the acquisition of reserves of strategic war minerals.

There was talk of postponing an additional $180,000,000 naval construction program as an economy move.

For the army, the house agreed to add $25,037,598 to the

CHIEF JUSTICE OF SUPREME COURT IN IMPORTANT ADDRESS

WASHINGTON, May 6.—(AP)—Chief Justice Hughes said today a "competent and independent judiciary" must parallel legislative and executive institutions in order to safeguard individual rights.

"The firm and true administration of justice is thus the primary concern of civilized society," he told the American Law Institute.

"The success of democratic institutions lies in the success of the processes of reason as opposed to the tyranny of force. If society chooses the processes of reason, it must maintain the institutions which embody those processes."

The 1,000 members and guests of the institute rose and applauded Hughes' reference to an "independent judiciary." They applauded again at the conclusion of his address.

The chief justice did not mention President Roosevelt's proposal to enlarge the supreme court unless members over 70 retire.

He pointed out, however, that the court is up in its work as it approaches the close of a term.

"This week cases have been argued which were filed as late as April 20," he said. "There are no inordinate or unjustified delays in the supreme court."

Mr. Hughes made a similar

Jailer Wounded When Pair Break Prison Crockett

CROCKETT, May 6.—(AP)—Bee Rains of Palestine and a man booked as "Red" Banks of Oklahoma shot their way to freedom from the Houston county jail early today, seriously wounding Jailer Bill Parker.

One of the men opened fire on Parker as he came to the cell, one of the bullets from a pistol wounding him in the face. The men then took Parker's keys, unlocked the jail and fled.

Rains was charged in seven counts with burglary. Banks, an enrollee at the Ratcliff C. C. C. camp, was held on a charge of criminal assault. The prisoners fled in Parker's automobile, which was parked outside the jail.

Officers throughout east and southeast Texas were warned to be on the lookout for the prisoners. A posse was formed here to seek them.

Physicians said that Parker probably would recover from his wounds.

Five negroes who were in another cell block were the only other prisoners in the jail at the time of the break. They had no opportunity to escape, being locked in a separate block.

Witnesses said the prisoners fled east toward a thickly wooded and sparsely settled region netted with narrow byroads.

STRIKING MOTION PICTURE CRAFTSMEN REJECT PEACE PLAN

APPEAL FOR NATION-WIDE BOYCOTT OF MOVING PICTURE THEATRES

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., May 6.—(AP)—As leaders of the motion picture strike pressed forward plans for picketing the nation's movie houses, labor leaders met today to draft a new proposal for ending the walkout.

A first plan proferred by the Los Angeles Central Labor Council, providing that strikers return to work without prejudice and that the striking unions negotiate regarding wages and working conditions, was accepted by the film producers and spurned by the workers.

So the executive committee of the council began to draft another peace plan.

Producers and strikers were stalemated.

"The next move is up too the strike leaders," said Pat Casey, labor representative of the producers.

"We are standing pat," replied Charles Lessing, head of the striking federated motion picture crafts.

The federation insists on a closed shop and union recognition.

Lessing said that about 1,000 pickets were on duty today at studio gates. Casey said the figure was greatly exaggerated. Reports that longshoremen augmented picket lines during the night rose again, but they could not be officially denied or substantiated.

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., May 6.—(AP)—Striking motion picture craftsmen appealed today for a nation-wide boycott and picketing of movie theaters after rejecting a peace proposal that omitted mention of the closed shop and union recognition.

Producers accepted unequivocally the terms of the peace plan, submitted by the Los Angeles Central

Famed Boot Factory At Nocona Dismisses Employes Summarily

NOCONA, May 6.—(AP)—Twenty-five workmen in the Nocona boot factory were dismissed this morning after a petition had been circulated among employes for an eight-hour, five-day week.

Miss Enid Justin, president of the company, said the firm did not favor collective baragining. She said NRA wage scales were in effect and that Christmas bonuses had been given. There no ill will toward signers of the petition, Miss Justin said.

The factory remained in operation with fewer than half the crew at work.

PRESIDENT WORKS ON URGENT MAIL OFF PORT ARANSAS TODAY

TAKES SOME TIME OUT FROM FISHING; WILL LAND AT GALVESTON TUESDAY

By D. HAROLD OLIVER

GALVESTON, May 6.—(AP)—President Roosevelt took time out from fishing today to work on urgent mail flown to the U.S.S. Potomac off Port Aransas by naval plane from here.

He decided to prolong his cruise in the Gulf one day to take advantage of the excellent fishing, which yesterday brought the party a batch of kingfish, but no tarpon. He will land here next Tuesday morning instead of Monday as first planned.

He will carry out his original return journey schedule, going to Texas A. and M. College to review the cadets and staying overnight Tuesday at the Fort Worth home of his son Elliott, one of his fishing companions, but he will not reach Washington until May 14, a day late.

Conferences with congressional leaders that week-end are expected to take place with a view to speeding up capitol activity.

Because of a rough sea, the President cruised back to Port Aransas yesterday from Port Isabel, close to Mexican waters, but reports from the latter point said the Gulf calmed soon after the Potomac steamed away at 6:30 a. m. and plenty of fish started to run.

The party trolled from the Potomac on the way up the

MELLON INSTITUTE DEDICATES ITS WORLD'S LARGEST RESEARCH INSTITUTE BUILDING THURSDAY

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor.

PITTSBURGH, May 6.—(AP)—Mellon Institute today dedicated its $6,000,000 new building, the world's largest research institution, its exterior a Greek temple nine stories high, its interior new laboratory magic.

It has three and one-half miles of corridors leading to 322 laboratory rooms where at present 185 scientists work. These men have actually increased their scientific accomplishments because of their new facilities. Dr. Edward R. Weidlein, director of the institute told distinguished men from all over North America who came to the dedication.

In the new laboratories the scientist can get the temperature of tropics or arctic, or the climate of the Sahara for his experiments simply by turning a thermostat.

If he wants a vacuum resembling that on the surface of the moon he can get it out of a pipe in any laboratory. Other pipes will give him steam, gas, hot or distilled water with the turn of a valve.

Shelves are hooked into the walls. Ten minutes is enough to change the shelf arrangement of an entire room. Furniture is made without bolts or screws—only a rubber mallet is needed to take apart laboratory tables or to add to them.

In this magnificent temple the scientified workers receive an average pay of $4,000 ayear. These men and the 777 scientists who have preceded them since the institute was founded in 1911, have, by their discoveries, established ten new American industries, aided about 4,000 American companies, invented about 650 novel processes and products and been granted 669 U. S. patents.

OLD TEXAS RANGER CAPTAIN STILL PARTIAL TO "SHOOTIN' IRONS" OF OLD FASHIONED KIND

AUSTIN, May 6.—(AP)—Old-fashioned "shootin' irons" are still the choice of Texas Ranger Captain J. W. McCormick where quickness of draw and sureness of aim mean the difference between life and death.

He holds to this opinion in spite of rapid fire guns and similar weapons available to the modernized rangers.

"In a tight place give me two good six-shooters and a rifle or so and I reckon I can take care of myself, he said.

McCormick probably more nearly approaches the type of ranger made famous by fact and fiction than any other in recent times.

"If I couldn't shoot from the hip," he says, "I probably wouldn't be alive today. Shooting from the hip with both eyes open is like throwing a baseball at a mark."

A former catcher for the St. Louis Cardinals, the veteran peace officer lists among his many experiences the cleaning up almost singled handed of an East Texas gang which terrorized the San Augustine community.

"That's the last time he had to draw two guns. He didn't kill anyone but had to "lay awake nights figuring out ways to avoid it." He and two husky assistants cleaned out the gang and obtained penitentiary sentences for 40.

He admits one reason none was killed was "bluff." At times he wore two six-shooters, one on either hip, a third pistol in a shoulder scabbard, another in a coat pocket and topped off the "ensemble" with a rifle.

Fellow officers attest to his quickness on the draw, and others probably would also if they could, including Bud Ballew, an Oklahoma character who went on a rampage in Wichita Falls, met Captain McCormick, and later was lugged away to be buried.

However, he prefers to get out of pinches without shooting, but not because of personal fear.

His tip on taking a tough hombre into custody without firing a shot:

"Never hit him with a gun above the cheek bone. It might bust his skull. Slap him below the bone. That is, just smash his jaw."

RECOMMENDATIONS IN EFFORTS AT ECONOMY ANNOUNCED TUESDAY

FLOOD CONTROL AND ARMY HOUSING PROGRAM BE ELIMINATED

WASHINGTON, May 4.—(AP)—The house completed congressional action today on a $1,503,441,943 appropriation to finance the postoffice and treasury departments for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

It adopted a senate-house conference report ironing out differences between the two houses. The measure now goes to the president for signature.

In its final form, the total in the bill was $12,554,275 below budget bureau estimates.

Despite that reduction, it carried aproximately $230,000,000 more than last year, largely because of mandatory appropriations for the social security retirement fund.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—(AP)—Administration efforts to cut the cost of government brought recommendations today for postponement of additional flood control projects and a $162,000,000 army housing program.

Chairman Whittington (D-Miss.) of the house flood control committee said hearings on emergency flood control measures would be delayed indefinitely.

President Roosevelt, he explained, had asked that action be put off until completion of a study of flood control in relation to power development and navigation aids.

The president sent the committee an army report on revised plans for control work on the Ohio and Mississipi rivers, where serious floods occurred early this year.

Mr. Roosevelt asked the amount of money to be spent on considered "in the light of the budgetary necessities of the government."

Some members predicted the president might discuss in a message to congress a national system of flood control, power, navigation and land conservation, possibly based on the Tennessee Valley authority idea.

A report said the budget bureau rejected the army's big housing program.

Almost simultaneously, secretary Swanson asked appropriation of $18,985,000 for construction of naval buildings and other projects.

Await Roosevelt's Return.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—(AP)—Congressional leaders said today they would await President Roosevelt's return before deciding how much of the farm program will be shelved by economy demands.

Although the chief executive, Secretary Wallace and assistants have outlined a broad program designed to promote greater stability and security on the nation's farms, none of the major proposals has been enacted.

Pending word from the White House, the house agriculture committee has delayed consideration of the $100,000,000 crop insurance bill passed by the senate. Both houses have yet to act on farm tenancy aids.

Mill Employes Receive Bonus; Production Up

Employes of the Corsicana Cotton Mills enjoyed the benefits of a spurt in production during the past two weeks to the extent of 15 per sent of the normal payroll for that period, officials of the manufacturing concern reported late Monday.

A bonus system was installed for employees about six weeks ago, according to officials, and for the first two reckoning periods the benefits to the workmen approximated 10 per cent, jumping 50 per cent during the period ending May 1.

The mill is operating at capacity on a two-shift basis with some 300 persons employed. Officials reported orders in sight and on hand were believed sufficient to maintain the present schdeule until early autumn.

Swimming Menace Missing as Cops Kill Alliagtor

SAN ANTONIO, May 5.—(AP)—Early morning swimmers in Brackenridge Park are going to be without the company of a strange companion hereafter.

He died this morning.

Police Captain Cliff Ramschissel accompanied by H. E. Pyle, went to the park this mornnig to hunt the unwelcome swimmer who had been seen in the pool on several mornings by early swimmers.

Pyle found him, a six foot alligator, behind the museum. Ramschissel did the shooting. They fished the carcass out of the water and carried it to police headquarters.

Police were told that the 'gator had been seen swimming in the pool betweeh 5 and 6 a. m. recently. Where the alligator came from is a mystery.

To Demand Trent Removal.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—(AP)—Representative Lyle H. Boren, Seminole, Okla., democrat, said today he intended to ask for a congressional investigation unless the Resettlement Administration granted his demands for the removal of D. P. Trent as regional administrator for Texas and Oklahoma.

"Unless I get definite action right away," he said, "I will ask a congressional investigation of Trent's affairs."

Boren said he would base his demand for an investigation upon allegations of "playing politics, incompetence and mismanagement of the Resettlement Administration program" in Oklahoma and Texas.

Boren said he planned an early conference with Dr. W. W. Alexander, Resettlement Administration, to make formal demand for Trent's removal.

SOCIAL SECURITY OPERATIONS TOLD LOCAL EMPLOYERS

DISTRICT BOARD MANAGER EXPLAINS MANNER OF KEEPING RECORDS

Ernest L. Tutt, district manager of the Dallas office of the Social Security board, spoke to a number of Corsicana employers and bookkeepers at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning at the Palace theatre, relative to the operation of various phases of the work. At the conclusion of his talk, Mr. Tutt answered numerous questions pertaining to how the records should be made and kept and the use of the different forms, and interpreted several questions as to who is eligible for the benefits.

Mr. Tutt remanied in Corsicana, at the Chamber of Commerce, a few hours during the afternoon, and went over individual problems with Corsicanans desiring help.

Mr. Tutt was introduced to the morning audience by R. W. Knight, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce.

In opening, Mr. Tutt said the only reason he and other men from his office are visiting cities and towns and addressing such audiences, is because they are trying to be helpful to enable people to understand better the government's program which was designed to be beneficial to the entire United States economically. He added that his office had many evidences, from reports received, that the set-up of the work is not generally understood.

Aged List Increasing

The speaker said in 1860 only 2.2 per cent of the population of the United States was over 65 years of age, while more than twice that amount had attained that age in 1930. By 1935, he went on, 7,500,000 persons were 65 years of age or over, and half of them were dependent, wholly or in part upon some form of charity for support.

"By 1980, thirteen per cent of the population of the United States will be more than 65 years of age," Mr. Tutt declared, "and 10 million of them will be dependent upon younger persons for support."

He said that with the advent of machines taking the place of workers, and the production lines being speeded up in recent years, many more workers are being thrown out of employment, and President Roosevelt asked Congress to provide a solution of several types of aid, to help these persons. Mr. Tutt said also that with the industrial plants condensing large populations in small areas, where workers do not have room for gardens, which would enable them to save something for old age, the problem of old age security has become more acute.

How Texas Law Works.

Outlining briefly the Social Security act's various ramifications, Mr. Tutt named the unemployment compensation (or insurance) in Texas to which an employer of eight or more men is subject. This phase of the bill provides that employees contribute to a fund, and if after two years of operation, they lose their jobs through no fault of their own, they are given approximately 50 per cent of their salary over a period of weeks, while they are looking for work. "If this had been in operation during recent years, it certainly would have cushioned the effects of the depression," Mr. Tutt said.

Another phase is the old age assistance, Mr. Tutt pointed out. He said prior to the passing of the Social Security Act, there were hit-or-miss types, but they aided only a few persons This phase of the act provides that the federal government will pay half of a maximum pension not to exceed $30 per month, if the states will enact laws to pay the other part.

Help For Children.

Other parts of the Act provided help for dependent children who are under 16 years of age if their parent or breadwinners are dead, providing they are living with a relative; aid to the blind; aid to mothers, crippled children and rehabilitation of men injured in industrial work and for rehabilitation work in backward sections.

Returning to a more detailed explanation of the old age retirement system, Mr. Tutt said it provides that men who have worked will have an earned income upon reaching the age of 65 years. The law became effective Jan. 1, 1937, and applies to every business employing at least one employee. The only exceptions are for farm labor, domestic servants in private homes, government employees, and one or two others.

The law provides, Mr. Tutt explained, that employees making up to $3,000 per year will be taxed one per cent each payday and their employers will match that amount, which goes into a fund to provide retirement pay for the employees after reaching the age of 65 years. The amount deducted from each employee, and charged each employer is to be increased to a maximum of three per cent in 1949, and is graduated according to salary scale.

Mr. Tutt said the higher the salary scale, the tax is lowered in percent, and so fixed that a maximum of $85 will be paid per month in retirement.

Should Get Numbers.

The speaker emphasized the importance of employees getting their account numbers, and added that it will be a simple process if done immediately, but will be more complicated after June 30, when such numbers will have to be secured from the Dallas office.

Mr. Tutt pointed out that on July 1, 1937 every employer will be required to submit an information return, covering each employee, his work from January to June, showing his name, address, account number, wages paid, length of service and amount of tax deducted.

He said there are now 4,000 persons in Texas who have reached the age of 65 years since Jan. 1, and who are entitled to a lump sum of three and a half per cent of their earnings since that time, but only about 25 have availed themselves of it. In the same connection, Mr. Tutt said, people surviving deceased persons in the same classification are entitled to lump sum payments, but few of them have made application for it.

The speaker pointed out several examples showing that if a person wanted to get equal benefits from the government plan, he would have to put much more into it than the government requires. Mr. Tutt said that little objection had been voiced generally against the program; that nearly all the large companies favor it and that only a few smaller businesses object to it.

At the conclusion of his talk, Mr. Tutt answered a number of questions arising from technicalities in handling the accounts and interpreting who are included for the benefits.

CHANGES TREATMENT CRIPPLED CHILDREN IS LECTURE SUBJECT

DR. HERBERT E. HIPPS, OF MARLIN, HERE UNDER AUSPICES B. & P. W. CLUB

Changes in treatment of crippled children were outlined and an illustrated lecture showing the actual work being done in this field presented by Dr. Herbert E. Hipps of Marlin in the auditorum of the First Methodist church Monday evening under the auspices of the Corsicana Business and Professional Women's Club and the Texas Society for Crippled Children.

Miss Faye Ashmore, president of the club, presided at the meeting and expressed the appreciation of her club for being able to present Dr. Hipps as the chief speaker for their annual health program.

Mrs. H. G. Brown, Navarro county representative for the Texas Society for Crippled Children, was presented and introduced the speaker of the evening. She pointed out that Dr. Hipps was a native of Corsicana and a graduate of the Corsicana high school of the class of 1921, had finished his work in both departments of Baylor University, studied in Germany and Austria, and was doing a remarkable work at the Marlin hospital for crippled children.

In his introductory remarks, Dr. Hipps complimented the Business and Professional Womens' Clubs on their health program series, and also the growing interest on the part of club women in health problems, particularly the increasing emphasis on children's work.

Praises President.

The surgeon credited the efforts of President Franklin D. Roosevelt for the major portion of the recent advancement of the movement for the rehabilitation of the handicapped, and pointed out that at present 16 states had adopted children's rehabilitation program, a necessary procedure for effective work, because of the cost of braces, hospitalization and other needed treatments.

The former Corsicanan declared the rehabititation program was not only meritorious from a humanitarian standpoint, but also from an economic standpoint. He reported on a survey compiled by the state of Bavaria in Germany, studied during his stay in Munich, which showed great savings to the state in pursuing the rehabilitation of the crippled children rather than the continuous cost of caring for them in their original condition.

Treatment of the various types of cases generally falls into two classifications, according to Dr. Hipps, the operative and the muscle training divisions. Surgery is needed to correct defects, he stated, and then long-unused or impaired muscles must be trained and strengthened.

Methods of Treatment.

In recent years much emphasis has been placed in physiotherapy or underwater treatment, although little was thought of the method until about 1926, Dr. Hipps stated. He declared that the water treatment was particularly advantageous because it permitted weak muscles to work without the handicap of gravity and enabled the gradual building up of various body members which would be virtually impossible out of water; he also credited the water treatment with causing relaxation and removing fears that would otherwise handicap.

As an example of the recent changes, Dr. Hipps outlined the old treatment for infantile paralysis which consisted of placing the affected portions of the body in splints or casts, a particularly painful process because of the soreness of the muscle affected by the disease. Under newer methods work or repairing the muscles affected is started as soon as possible after the major phases of the disease have been passed, with the water treatment greatly shortening the period of muscle soreness and also the time necessary for rehabititation.

Moving Pictures Shown.

He presented two reels of moving pictures, all made at the Marlin hospital and swimming pool; the first showed the general routine of treatment for various types of cases, with a number of scenes from the hospital, gymnasium, and pool in colors; the second was confined almost entirely to treatment of spastic cases.

The illustrated lecture gave many of the audience their first accurate knowledge of the crippled children's work as it presented views of the patients before hospitalization, showing their tremendous physical handicaps and others showing their gradual improvement under treatment as well as portions of the treatments themselves.

A vote of thanks was given Dr. Hipps by the audience at the close of the lecture. Several former patients of the Marlin institution were in attendance during the evening.

Knight, secretary of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce, reported Wednesday. Monthly meetings are scheduled with the next to be held in Hillsboro on June 15. Better relations between the blackland cities are the aims of the meetings.

Among those attending last night's session were Jake Stubbs of Mexia, Dupree Davis of Ennis, Roy Connolly of Waxahachie and the host, Mr. Knight. The secretary of the chamber of commerce at Hillsboro was unable to attend because of illness.

The Queen of America
Long May She Reign!

Next Sunday all America will pay tribute to those women who have worked devotedly at the most difficult job in the world - - - the making of men and women.

How beautifully Mother did it, and how ingeniously! She "Knighted" us in the wood shed with a peach tree switch when we had been a bit too saucy, only to brush away the hurt with a kiss. She met us at the door with smiles and a bite to eat when we rushed in from school or play. To us she was home itself, and such a haven of comfort that pain and heart aches eased when her arms went around us. And now that we are grown the years and miles that have separated us have not lessened her loyalty or her love. She knows that no matter how splendid our attainments may be, we shall never grow too wise to need her care. God save the Queen of America! We love her!

NEW WONDERS OF DEAD SEA LINKED TO OLD BIBLE STORY *

Fate of Sodom and Gomorrah, the Sites of Which Have Lately Been Discovered, Had Cast Pall Over Rich Region ---- Abraham's Intercession For Doomed Cities.

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS

Carefully concealed from the eyes of the world, sensational developments have of late years been taking place on and about the Dead Sea, in Palestine. Informed persons now know that possession of this strange body of water, in the lowest depression of the earth's surface, was really one of the important objectives of the world war; for in its waters are suspended billions of dollars worth of chemicals, some of which are essential to the manufacture of munitions. Several years ago a British corporation built elaborate works on the northern shore of the sea for extracting these, and although the whole project has been surrounded by secrecy, the plant has been producing heavily for half a dozen years. Of the larger imperial schemes involved, which included the building of the great Haifa harbor and the seizure of Akaba and the shores of the Gulf of Akaba from the Hejaz, this is not the place to write.

Incidentally, it has been discovered that the Dead Sea is a "Sea of Life," for the region, while warm, is one of the most healthful on earth. The chemical works long ago dismissed most of its staff of physicians and nurses.

Archaeologists have been busy on the plain about the sea. Not only has old Jericho been discovered, with amazing confirmations of the Bible Story, but the sites of Sodom and Gomorrah have been identified by Pere Mallon, of the Jesuit School in Jerusalem; and he reports evidence that they were destroyed just as the Bible says. The awesome fate of these two wicked cities on the tropical plain has been responsible for much of the ill repute which for centuries has been attached to the Dead Sea and its surroundings.

When Cities Get Too Corrupt.

It will be remembered that when Lot separated from Abraham, he chose the soft and enervating life of Sodom for his habitation. It was a bad choice. For Sodom was a rotten city. There are such. Those of us who have travelled widely, know that there are communities which seem to be wholly bad, without any redeeming element. This deterioration is progressive. Cities do not naturally grow better, but worse. Unless there is a dominant moral sentiment, consciously and actively at work to maintain high standards, a community will slump. The revelations of the Dewey Commission in New York City are a case recently in point. Old Rome perished of internal immorality. The real foes of a community are within and not without. Good citizenship is an ever-urgent Christian duty.

So Jehovah decided to destroy Sodom and Gomorrah; for there comes an end even to the patience of God. Some day, somehow, evil always gets its "come-uppance." Sin may seem triumphant for a time; but there is always God to be reckoned with ultimately. "Shall not the Judge of all the earth do right?" This note of final responsibility to God, for individuals, for communities, for countries, is strangely lacking from our modern preaching. When a trumpet-voiced messenger from Jehovah arises to confront our times his word will be "Repent! Repent!"

When the recent Preaching Mission was in an eastern city, Dr. Stanley Jones was moved, at a meeting largely attended by officials, to picture, in glowing words, the Christian city of our desire and dreams—free from graft, injustice, oppression, poverty and all the other fruits of sin. Whereupon the mayor arose, and in a speech of amazing smugness, declared that his city is just the sort that Dr. Jones had described—though it has long been labelled, in the national mind, as "corrupt and contented." Unless there be consciousness of sin, there can be no amendment. Sodom's doom lay in the fact that it was contented with its wickedness; it had not even ten righteous men as saving salt.

"The Friend" Intercedes.

To Abraham, the obedient and righteous, the Lord confided His purpose concerning Sodom and Gomorrah. Never more sublimely did Abraham demonstrate his title as "The Friend." (To this day, by the way, the Arabic name of the City of Hebron, where he dwelt, is "The Friend.") He was a friend of man, as well as a friend of God. No petty meanness abode in his breast. He did not think for an instant, "Now it will serve that stubborn Lot right for his selfish choice." Christ's own quality of compassion dwelt in Abraham's breast. He yearned for the rescue of even the degenerate sinners in Sodom and Gomorrah. We are not true children of Abraham, or of God, unless our thoughts and our prayers reach out beyond our own interests to those far away, who have no natural claim upon us. Prayer is hardly prayer that is wholly selfish. What streams of petitions are pouring heavenward these days for poor Spain and China and Germany and Russia and Japan!

Does it seem presumptuous that Abraham should have pleaded with God for these whom an earlier phraseology called "hell-deserving sinners"? Ah, friend knows the heart of Friend. Abraham understood God's quality of mercy. So he asked that the cities of the plain might be spared if fifty righteous persons were found therein. That boon granted, he lowered the number, in successive petitions, to forty-five, to forty, to thirty, and twenty, and ten.

How To Save A City.

Ten good men would have saved Sodom! But they could not be found, and the city was wiped out by the wrath of the Lord, to whom righteousness and justice and good will mean more than towering sky-scrapers or bulging banks or dazzling entertainment.

Our mealy-mouthed, muddy-minded sentimentalism of today has little to say about personal character as the paramount need for individual righteousness. Yet such is the saving salt of society. The best service anybody can render his community is to live in it a consistent, honest, brotherly and God-fearing life. Slowly, but surely, we are awaking to the tremendous truth that less in new laws than in the old religion lies the hope of our times.

CORSICANA, TEX., MAY 7, 1937

THE CORONATION CRAZE

Americans seem determined to get King George VI properly crowned, even if they have to do it themselves. Washington reports such a rush for passports that the State Department is swamped, and is asking Congress for money to hire additional clerks.

The coronation fans will take a lot of good money out of the country, too. With that fact in mind, and perhaps moved also by patriotic prejudice, Congressman Hamilton Fish of New York proposes to lay a heavy export tax on all Americans attending the big show.

We shall hardly come to that. It would provoke retaliation. And it isn't really necessary. There will be plenty of Americans left, who would regard that vast coronation crowd as a thing of horror, and who shrink even from thinking about the attendant discomforts. Such people will travel at home this summer, scattering money as they go, at a rate which will make the coronation expenditure look like small change.

PRIVATE LANGUAGES

A justice of the Court of Appeals of New York the other day "reserved judgment" in a case involving the rental of moving pictures, because the contracts were drawn in movie lingo incomprehensible to outsiders.

"The parties," said the judge, "have used the language understood, we must assume, by those cognizant of the special or technical meaning of words used in the profession or art of the parties. In that language we are illiterate."

The judge was willing to accept definitions of terms on which the opposing parties agreed. When they disagreed on the meanings of crucial words in the contract, on which the case was based, the judge declined to take the definitions of either side. It was up to them, he held, to supply suitable dictionaries. "They have not done so in this case," and so the court "must be made literate in a language in which it is now unschooled."

It was time such rebuke was issued to somebody. The use of special jargons by special groups — social workers, psychologists, followers of different sports, movie people and others—has come to be a great nuisance to the uninitiated and a great detriment to the English language. Since lawyers and judges are among the offending groups, however, the disgusted judge in this particular case might well do a little reform work in his own profession.

PUBLIC RESTRAINT

Addressing an advertising club, Newton D. Baker, former war secretary, suggests that the propaganda emanating from the public men of the United States and the propaganda indulged in by nations in general ought to be governed by the example of "restraint and understatement" now practiced by American advertising men.

The implied compliment to the ad men is doubtless deserved, on the whole. There has been a notable improvement in the last decade or two in the spirit and method of American advertising. There is much less exaggeration and much better taste, with a corresponding increase in effectiveness.

This comment, however, applies to newspaper and magazine advertising more than to radio advertising.

It is strange that in the most modern medium of advertising there should be so much noise, exaggeration and bad taste.

JUST FOLKS

(Copyright, 1937, Edgar A. Guest)

WORKADAY INCIDENT.

There were scars upon his fingers; there was grime beneath his nails.
He sat with several others eating lunch from dinner pails;
But I overheard him telling, as he munched a piece of bread,
A very funny sentence that his little girl had said.

He'd been working all the morning and his face was far from clean,
But a dude at useful labor I have very seldom seen,
I'd have thought no more about him if he hadn't proudly told
That tender, funny story of his little five-year-old.

There was something in his manner just like yours and mine, I'll swear!
He was brother to the preacher, banker, merchant, millionaire,
He was sitting at his dinner with a group of men who smiled
As he bored them by his boasting of his very lovely child.

Then the foreman blew a whistle and to work again he went
At a task I'd often noticed without thinking what it meant,
He was just another workman pounding nails in boards above,
But to me he was the fellow with the little girl to love.

PROFITABLE TIME

A high school principal at Pompton Lakes, N. J., seems to have the right idea of what to do at this time of year. At lease 39 boys and girls think so. He took them all fishing the other day—and a fine, sunny day it was, too—on the banks of the Ramapo River.

The students have been studying the life, characteristics and construction of the trout, so it was a good chance for them to apply what they had been learning. They caught some, too.

The principal says he believes in a program of outdoor class work, "to encourage youngsters to develop a more profitable use of leisure time." So do nearly all of us, though we don't apply the doctrine so much as we might. At this time of year, especially, everybody ought to go fishing. Not only teachers and students, but business men and laborers, and particularly people of public life.

A good spell of fishing would solve most of our public problems. Not that anything would necessarily be done about them. The problems would simply evaporate.

BABIES AND PSYCHOLOGY

Those "college-trained" five-year-old twins, James and John Woods of New York, are still subjects of psychological scrutiny, though at this distance they look like any other pair of youngsters.

At a very tender age the two lads went to college. Their first two years were passed in the Normal Child Development Clinic of the Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Centre. One of them was carefully "conditioned" according to the best scientific theories of child training and behavior. The other was permitted to "just grow," but also under scientific observation.

At two years they returned to the parental roof. The specially trained youngster had some abilities in advance of his twin brother, but after a while they did things on a more even basis.

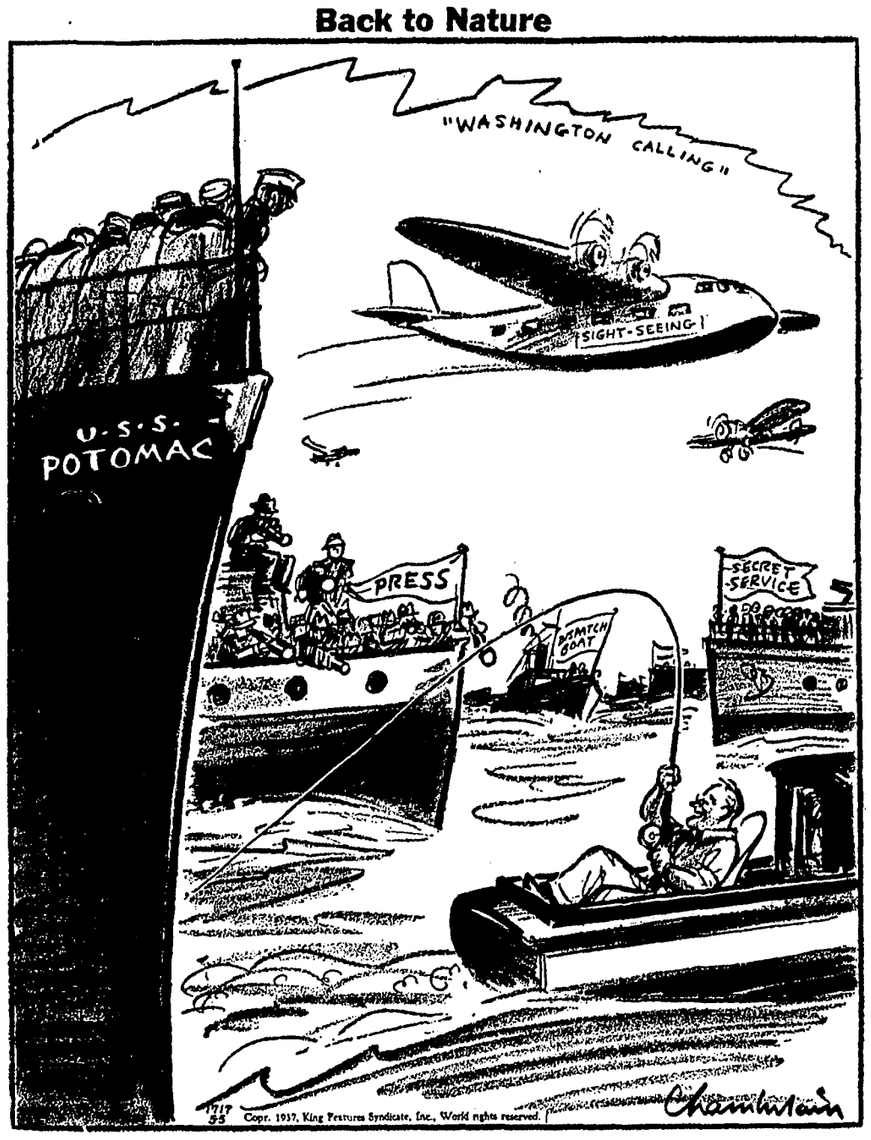

Being interviewed about their birthday bored them a little. They were interested in the reporter's pencil, but not greatly interested in answering his questions. One of them hid himself in a closet and the other put on a brief crooning act.

From all appearances the psychological experiment has been of more service to the adult observers than to the boys. The former are learning quite a bit about how ordinary, healthy and intelligent small fry behave. Maybe the twins are learning how inquisitive adults behave.

Henry Ford said lately that he doesn't know what the letters "A. F. of L." mean, so he has probably never heard of "C. I. O." or "I. O. U."

Surely we Americans have enough trouble with our own strikes to let Canada's alone.

Back to Nature

SECOND SIGHT.

More news comes from Duke University, in North Carolina, regarding the experiments started by Psychology Professor J. B. Rhine in "extra-sensory perception." This is the scientific term for what is usually known as "second sight" or "clairvoyance" or, when another person's mind is read, "telepathy."

The experiments with playing cards made by Prof. Rhine and his students are well known, and have been described in detail by the Scientific American and other reputable publications. The latest announcement tells of confirmative results obtained by half a dozen independent experiments in this country and abroad.

They all indicate a direct perception of things hidden, or distant, or in others' minds, in which the ordinary senses appear to play no part whatever. In these experiments, as in previous ones, the circumstances, and the uniformly high degree of accuracy shown by certain persons, seemed impossible to explain by mere chance.

Such knowledge is not at all new. It is merely subjected now to a more severe scientific procedure than has been tried before.

Indications are, according to Prof. Rhine and his associates, that these supposedly "supernatural" powers are much more common than is ordinarily believed, and that they are really natural, though weak in most people and strong only in a few.

The principle involved seems much like instinct—the power by which people, animals and all living creatures seem to know certain things, or how and when to do certain things, without being told and without knowing how they know. They simply know—that's all.

The public has been hollering so much for the government to economize, that the government is going to economize now if the public will let it. An awful howl will go up from every state, city and group that wants money spent for it as usual.

There's so much gold in this country now, with more pouring in all the time, that we may yet have to build houses of it. Wouldn't gold-plated steel look pretty? And they'd never need painting.

Whether Americans really like grand opera is still uncertain, but at least they have got so they like to be seen at the opera.

AUTOCRATIC FALLACY

"What is democracy?" asks Premier Mussolini oratorically, in a recent interview. "If democracy means a government for the greatest good of the greatest number of people, then the Italy of today is the greatest democracy. Our system is not only conceived, but actually functions, to promote the welfare and happiness of the people. Those so-called democracies whose submerged tenth are left to shift for themselves have no right to throw stones at us."

The statement looks fine until you start taking it to pieces. Is it actually true that Fascism in Italy or Germany is promoting the welfare and happiness of the people as the dictators say it is? If half the reports of trustworthy foreign observers, including our own, are true, the people are worse off materially in the Fascist country than they are in the free countries. And what of their "submerged tenth," or whatever the fraction is, in the concentration camps or in exile for rebellion against tryanny?

But the worst thing about autocracy is not its material damge; it is the way autocratic tryanny kills the human spirit and the self-respect and individual competence of its citizens. The glory of democracies is the self-respect and personal enterprise of their people. They believe it is better to be free, though poor, than to be enslaved with plenty. And this is something that dictators cannot understand.

The Labor Relations Board is empowered, if an employer disobeys the Wagner law, to issue an order demanding that he "cease and desist." And what if an employer ceases but doesn't desist?

A Nazi publication condemns platinum blonds as "non-Nordic" and says they "should be ridiculed when they appear on the street." If we know platinum blonds, the Nazis better let 'em alone.

"Practice King-Kissing in Coronation Preparation," reads the sensational headline. But don't get excited. It's just the Archbishop of Canterbury doing it by proxy, and kissing a London fog on the cheek.

If guns were locked up, we wouldn't have to lock up so many people.

The evolution of men's fashions seems to be from tails to tails.

Get Conviction In Gasoline Tax Case

W. A. McCants, state tax supervisor, with headquarters in Corsicana, calls attention to a recent conviction of a Santa Anna man in connection with gasoline tax evasion.

It is pointed out by Mr. McCants the indictment charged the offender filed an affidavit for the refund claiming the gasoline was used by a Santa Anna farmer in a farm tractor and farm truck, which under the law are exempt from the four cent gasoline tax. On a plea of guilty the accused man was sentenced to serve an indeterminate term of one year to eighteen months in the penitentiary. The indictment charged the dealer claimed the four cent tax on the gasoline involved had been paid by the farmer to whom it was allegedly sold. The state charged only 110 gallons of gasoline actually were sold instead of 220 gallons during the period designated.

This is the first conviction of its kind in Texas, Mr. McCants pointed out.

Prosecution of all gasoline tax evasions will be pushed in this section, Mr. McCants intimated.

METHODIST MISSIONS TO RECEIVE MILLION AND HALF DOLLARS

NASHVILLE, Tenn., May 6.—(AP)—Members of the Board of Missions, Methodist Episcopal Church, South, dispersed today after the close of the board's 91st session which voted to send $1,589,537 into missionary work during the coming year.

A total of $947,392 was set aside for "general apropriations" while $795,145 was designated for use in the "woman's section" of missionary endeavor.

The appropriations are approximately the same as for 1937, the board said, although the financial conditions is omproved because of the recent Bishop's Crusade, which yielded nearly $400,000 from free will offerings to missions.

This sum, Bishop Arthur J. Moore, who directed this phase of the crusade, said, is to be used to retire a debt the board acquired during the depression.

Bishop Moore reported that every active missionary is doing the work of from three to five persons and added that recent cuts in apuropriations resulted in a decline in church membership in Europe and put the younger churches under a financial strain.

Two Agencies Trying End Hotel Strike

SAN FRANCISCO, May 6.—(AP)—Two separate agencies were set today to act in the San Francisco hotel strike deadlock, but both were hampered by the apparent unwillingness of either side in the dispute to make the first move toward holding a settlement conference.

Mayor Angelo J. Rossli was ready to offer his services as mediator.

The advisory committee of the San Francisco Central Labor Council called a meeting to try to arrive at an agreement by which negotiations could be started.

BORAH DENOUNCES FASCIST TACTICS IN ETHIOPIA AND SPAIN

FIERY IDAHO SENATOR DECLARES FASCISM MORE DANGEROUS THAN COMMUNISM

WASHINGTON, May 6.—(AP)—Senator Borah (R-Ida) in a senate speech denouncing fascist military tactics in Ethiopia and Spain, said today fascism was a more dangerous threat to American democracy than communism.

The Idaho senator, long a student of foreign affairs and senate spokesman on the subject, attacked both fascism and communism, asserting both were at war with democracy. But as his colleagues delayed their lunches to listen, he said:

"I doubt very much if we are fully aware of the insidious, subtle, effort being constantly put forth in this country by the advocates of that theory of government called fascism.

"It has far more supporters in this country than communism and they are much more active and much more adroit in the manner in which they are accomplishing their end. They work in wholly different ways and by widely different methods from communists."

In one of the few speeches he ever read to the senate from manuscript, Borah lashed out at the military tactics of fascism, citing particularly the recent bombing of Guernica in Spain.

"No language can describe the scene of Guernica, and Guernica was not a single instance, it was simply a culmination of a long line of unspeakable atrocities," the senator asserted.

TEXAS DELEGATION TOLD AMENDMENT IS WAY GET RESEARCH

WASHINGTON, May 6.—(AP)—Secretary Wallace suggested today to a Texas delegation they seek an amendment to the Bankhead-Jones act to provide federal aid for a cotton use research station in their state.

Headed by Senators Morris Sheppard and Tom Connally, the group asked Wallace if aid could not be obtained under a provision of the act calling for research work.

"I do not think it would be feasible," he replied. "Funds provided for the particular section are limited. It would be better to have the act amended to provide a certain sum for the station in Texas."

The delegation invited Wallace to attend a soil conservation meeting in Nacogdoches, Texas, on July 15, which farmers from East Texas are expected to attend. Soil conservation director Hugh H. Bennett has promised to be there.

Representative Nat Patton, Crockett said Wallace could give no definite promise to attend, but indicated he would if possible.

FEDERAL WITNESSES FEAR RETURN HARLAN COUNTY, KENTUCKY

WASHINGTON, May 6.—(AP)—A little band of Kentucky mountain folk looked for new homes and jobs today as "hideaways" from vengeance which they said they feared because of their testimony about labor conditions in Harlan county.

At the end of the senate civil liberties committee's inquiry into "violence and anti-union terrorism" in the Harlan coal fields, several of the witnesses told reporters they dared not return home.

The protection of the federal government followed them out of the hearing room. Chairman LaFollette (Prog-Wis) continued all subpoenas and ordered every witness to report his whereabouts at least once a week.

Committee attaches explained that any violence done a senate witness would be a federal offense.

LaFollette ended the hearings yesterday.

Seeks Consolidate Three Federal Home Loan Organizations

WASHINGTON, May 6.—(AP)—Senator Byrd (D-Va) laid before the senate today a proposal to consolidate three federal home loan organizations, declaring the merger would save $24,500,000 a year.

Byrd, chairman of a senate committee on government reorganization, said other suggestions for substantial savings "are sure to follow" if this recommendation is given a hearing.

His measure would combine the Home Loan Bank board, the Home Owners Loan Corporation and the Federal Housing Administration, into a single unit called the Federal Home Credit Administration. The new agency also would supervise the RFC Mortgage Corporation.

Definite Plans Compromise Court Bill Developing

WASHINGTON, May 4.—(AP)—Definite overtures for a compromise on the Roosevelt court bil were developing today in the closely divided senate judiciary committee.

Without committing themselves, several of the measure's foes discussed sympathetically a suggestion by Senator Hatch (D.-N. M.) for the appointment of one new supreme court justice a year in addition to filling normal vacanies.

One opposition senator, who declined to be quoted by name, took the view that in the natuarl course of events President Roosevelt might have a chance to appoint three new justices because of retirements or deaths before his term expires in 1941.

Hatch's proposal would bring a gradual return to the present membership of nine justices. The Roosevelt bill would permit appointment of as many as six justices unless members over 70 retire.

SENATOR M'CARRAN OFFERS SUBSTITUTE FOR COURT PROGRAM

WASHINGTON, May 5.—(AP)—Senator McCarran (D-Nev.) presented to the senate judiciary committee today a substitute for the Roosevelt court bill. His plan would provide for two new supreme court justices but no increase in lower court judges.

The McCarran plan also would eliminate the Roosevelt proposal for creation of a court proctor to watch for court congestion and assignment where they were needed. This duty would continue to [illegible] the chief justice.

The McCarran proposal was the first complete substitute for the president's bill yet considered.

The substitute actually was a re-draft of the compromise previously submitted by the Nevada senator.

Under the McCarran plan the supreme court would be composed of ten associate justices and the chief justice.

McCarran said he eliminated the proposal for 50 new judges in the lower courts because as new judges became necessary, they would be recommended by the chief justice to congress and could be provided by special legislation as at present.

The chief justice, he added, would have authority to shift district judges around to care for specifically crowded conditions.

ORGANIZED CRIME, RECKLESS DRIVING SCORED BY JOHNSON

CHAIRMAN TEXAS PUBLIC SAFETY COMMISSION WAS SPEAKER AT BANQUET

Albert Sidney Johnson, Dallas attorney, former Corsicanan, now chairman of the Texas Public Safety commission, termed an automobile as an "inherently dangerous instrumentality" along with dynamite and firearms and also declared: "You have no constitutional right to drive cars. You drive due to the sufferance of your fellowmen." Chairman Johnson was the principal speaker at the regular Baptist Brotherhood Banquet held at the First Baptist church Tuesday night. He was introduced by District Judge Wayne R. Howell, president of the Brotherhood and a class-mate of Johnson in the law school of the University of Texas.

Chairman Johnson used the first portion of his address dealing with law enforcement and the workings of the safety department recently organized by Texas.

"Will You Remember," from Maytime and "The Night Is Young" from Casa Manana was rendered by Mrs. Gladys Petrus, accompanied at the piano by her mother, Mrs. Melton.

Misses Conway, Thranert and Goodlow, students of the IOOF home presented a well-received skit and tap dance.

Howell Introduced Johnson.

Chairman Johnson was introduced by President Howell as an outstanding young lawyer, public-spirited and serving in many public places in addition to his work in his profession. He was secretary of the Texas Democratic executive committee for several years in addition to serving in other capacities.

In the beginning of his address, Mr. Johnson outlined the scientific means employed at the present time in the law enforcement efforts of the State of Texas. He reviewed the changed methods necessary to cope with "organized crime" as compared with the early days when crimes and criminals were generally individual matters and when transportation facilities were slow. He stated that the careers of Barrows, Hamilton and others had made the officials of the state realize that they were not prepared to cope with the situation and the department of safety, the co-ordination of the Texas Rangers and the highway patrol was carried out. He made it plain that the new set-up of state officers was in no wise calculated or intended to replace sheriffs, police and other local officers, but local police and officers were not organized effectively, and due to the changing personnel through elections, could not become a well-knit state-wide affair. The state officers are to aid and assist the local officers in the enforcement of the law, the speaker pointed out, somewhat as a clearing house for information and assistance.

Schools for Crime.

Chairman Johnson stated the penitentiaries were schools for crime which put out their pupils better equipped for their future activities than the universities equipped their products for their careers.

He spoke of the identification department which is at the disposal and use of the officers of the state, the ballistics experts employed, classification of fingerprints, etc. A weekly bulletin is sent to the officers of the persons wanted in other sections and in that manner frequently dangerous criminals are apprehended when they have been picked up only on suspicion and for investigation.

The state department sends experts to testify in criminal cases on handwriting, ballistics, prints, etc. without cost to the counties and officers and referred to a number of cases tried in which convictions and death penalties were assessed through the efforts of the state department.

Wood, bloodstains, etc., clues left by hit and run drivers are analyzed in the laboratories of the University of Texas without cost to the state.

Organized Crime.

"I was tolerant toward law enforcement," the speaker declared, before he became a closer student of the situation. "You can't trifle with organized crime," he stated. "Organized gambling can't be controlled locally—it spreads and becomes a racket," he continued after pointing out that two men controlled 2,000 slot machines in Dallas at one time.

Organized crime and rackets are never satisfied and go into policy rackets, roulette wheels, protection of thieves, etc. He said officers often find their hands tied by connections of organized crime to the city hall and the higher ups in authority.

You can't half-way enforce the law, enforce one law and let another go," Chairman Johnson warned.

Turning his attention to safety and automobile driving, the speaker declared an automobile as an "inherently dangerous instrumentality" and termed it in the class of dynamite and firearms.

"You have no constitutional right to drive a car. You drive on the sufferance of your fellowmen," Chairman Johnson pointed out after stating the constitution did not grant anyone any right to drive a car or automobile in answer to the opposition to a strict examination of drivers for licenses for Texas. He referred to the restrictions placed on the use of dynamite and firearms and the attendant safety and few accidents from their proper use. He stated an automobile going 45 miles per hour had the same force striking a person as had the person fallen from the top of a 12-story building.

Thousands Killed.

Referring to the 38,000 people killed in auto accidents in the country last year, to say nothing of the larger-number injured and maimed, Chairman Johnson urged more regulatory measures for the safety of all concerned.

The speaker declared that no parent would send a 13-year old child out on the street with a stick of dynamite or with firearms without giving strict precautionary advice, but they would send their children on the highways in high-powered automobiles without proper instruction and training in driving. Generally a driver is taken out by a relative two or three times and instructed in driving and a family argument ensues each time, Chairman Johnson continued, and then they are turned loose on the streets and highways in the "dangerous instrumentality."

He urged the acceptance of regulations for safety and said if the citizenship will accept them and play fair, the battle of safety will be half won. He asked that Corsicanans co-operate and held put over the local safety campaign.

BALLARD W. GEORGE HONORED BY LOCAL BAR ASSOCIATION

AFFAIR LARGELY ATTENDED AND "OFF RECORD" REMARKS ARE MADE

Judge Ballard W. George, recently appointed commissioner of the Court of Civil Appeals, Tenth Supreme Judicial District of Texas, was honored at the spring quarterly meeting of the Navarro County Bar association held at the Navarro Hotel Monday night at 7:30 o'clock. Judge George was appointed to his new post last month by Governor James V. Allred and has already assumed his duties. A number of prominent jurists were also guests and appeared on the program. Beauford H. Jester, president of the bar association and former partner of Mr. George presided at the meeting. A varied program including wit, humor and "off the record" observations and comments, was presented.

Speakers included President Jester, Richard Mays, Dexter Hamilton, Dallas, former Corsicanan and former member of the Dallas Court of Civil Appeals; Chief Justice J. N. Gallaghar of the Waco Court of Civil Appeals, Waco; Justice James P. Alexander of the Waco Court of Civil Appeals, Waco; District Judge Tom Ball of Waxahachie; District Judge Wayne R. Howell, Wallace Hawkins, Magnolia Petroleum company attorney, Dallas, former assistant attorney general of Texas, a class-mate of Mr. George in the University of Texas; and Judge George.

History of Local Bar.

Mr. Mays, past president of the Texas Bar association and long prominent in legal circles of the state, spoke on the honors and appointments of members of the Navarro county bar throughout the years. He outlined the organization of Navarro county in 1846 and the prominent part played by Col. C. M. Winkler and General Edward H. Tarrant for whom Tarrant county was named. Col. Winkler was a well-known Confederate soldier as well as a civic leader. General Tarrant was the first county judge of Navarro county. His grave was recently found in Ellis county and his remains were taken to Tarrant county. General Tarrant was a ranger, as well as an outstanding attorney.

Mr. Mays recounted the famous Mercer grant of President Sam Houston and its later attack in the district court in Navarro county and its declaration to be in error. This grant extended from Robertson county northward through Dallas and other North Texas points.

Col. Winkler was one of the first three judges of the Court of Criminal Appeals of Texas, appointed in 1876. He is buried in Corsicana.

The late Senator Roger Q. Mills, a Confederate officer, went to Congress and the U. S. Senate from Texas and is buried in Corsicana.

Judge E. J. Simkins, another former member of the Court of Criminal Appeals, was a member of the local bar and is buried in Corsicana.

Mr. Mays also mentioned Rufus Hardy and Luther A. Johnson as prominent members of the Navarro county bar.

The two living members of the bar who have been honored by appointment to high courts are Judge Dexter Hamilton and B. W. George who were present at the banquet.

Telegrams Received.

Telegrams and letters were read from Wm. P. Goar, Dallas; Emmett L. Wilkerson, Magnolia attorney, Dallas, former Corsicanans; Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Texas C. M. Cureton and Associate Justices Critz and Sharp, regretting they were unable to be present and expressing their approval and pleasure of the appointment of Judge George to the Waco court. Judge Lex Smith was unable to be here due to illness.

The subject of Judge Dexter Hamilton was "Advice From An Old Judge to a New Judge."

Judge Hamilton recalled his return from the University of Texas law school with a diploma. He stated he worked as city editor of the Corsicana Daily Sun for some time for the late A. A. Wortham, editor of this newspaper and then entered the law office of Richard Mays and his later appointment to the court in Dallas.

"Navarro county has a great bar and sets an example any man should strive to attain the highest achievements," Judge Hamilton stated as he recalled the legal and other attainments of such attorneys as Judge Neblett, Frost, John D. Lee, Simkins, Jester and others.

One of Greatest.

After recounting the former members of the bar, Judge Hamilton also declared that "The fact remains, this bar, today, is one of the greatest bars in Texas, and always has been so recognized." He said attorneys outside of Corsicana are glad they do not have Corsicana attorneys opposing them all of the time.

Chief Justice Galaghar stated the Waco court had received Judge George most cordially and predicted a career by him which will honor him and the Navarro county bar, and of real service to this district.

Associate Justice Alexander stated that he was happy to have Judge George with him on the Waco appellate court and stated that he would not only be commissioner, but will have all the powers any other member on the bench and would be regarded as a full-fledged justice. He stated he was glad that Navarro county had received the recognition of George's appointment by Governor Allred.

Judge Alexander made an announcement with reference to the district bar association meeting in Waco Saturday night when the supreme court and many justices from other courts will be on hand.

Judge Ball of Waxahachie spoke of the years he had known Judge George and stated that he believed he deserved this promotion.

Praise For George.

District Judge Howell declared the Navarro county bar was proud of George's promotion but gave him up with regrets.

Wallace Hawkins, a class-mate of Mr. George from the law school of the University of Texas in 1920, spoke of his friend as being courageous, honest, honorable, chivalrous and possessed of good judgment. He predicted a brilliant career for George on the higher court.

President Jester recounted his associations with Judge George during the nine years they were law partners, and complimented Governor Allred on the appointment.

Judge George spoke briefly, stating he would enjoy his new work and associations and declared his sole aim and purpose was to try to write the law as it should be so that "right and justice" will be expressed. He expressed his appreciation for the kindnesses, help etc., extended to him by the local bar members, and he invited his former associates to come to see him in Waco.

President Jester announced another quarterly banquet of the bar would be held during the summer.

NEGRO QUARTETS STAGED CONTEST WEDNESDAY NIGHT

A musical event for National Music Week, which is growing in interest each year, both among the white, as well as the colored people, is the annual colored male quartet contest, held the past four years at the Bethel, A. M. E. church on East Collin and Fourth street.

The contest this year was held Wednesday evening, and afforded the large number in attendance the opportunity to hear one form of American folk music, the popular spirituals, at its best.

The contest is sponsored by the St. Andrews M. E. church with Essie Taylor Moore as general chairman each year, Dr. L. R. Carraway, master of ceremonies, and Mrs. M. S. Dockum, chairman of the judges committee.

Baskets of lovely roses and wild flowers outlined the chancel and decorated the choir enclosure for the occasion.

Six quartets took part in the contest, and the men's chorus and quartets from Ennis and Powell gave special numbers.

After being welcomed by Dr. Carroway and the order of the program announced by Essie Moore, Mrs. Dockum named the following judges and assigned them places.

Miss Blanche McKie, Mrs. E. M. Polk, Mrs. R. N. Elliott, Mrs. Claude White, Jr., Mrs. George Summery of College Station, Dr. A. B. Horn and H. D. Johnson.

The pastor of the church, Rev H. F. Cooper gave the invocation and in opening the program the entire congregation sang the negro national anthem with Helen Hall, member of the faculty of the Jackson high school at the piano.

Known By Number.

The quartets were known by number, only, and all six sang as their contest number, "I've Got a Robe" and one of their own selection as the second number, and were as follows: "When the Gates Swing Open," "Hard Trials and Great Tribulations;" "Behold the Bridegroom Cometh;" "Anybody Here Loves King Jesus;" "Handwriting on the Wall," and "You'd Better Mind."

While the judges were making their decision, request numbers were sung by the men's chorus, the Powell and the Ennis quartets.

The decision given by the judges was first prize of $10.00 to No. 6, which proved to be the Dallas quartet, and second prize $5, awarded by Mrs. Dockum, to No. 5, which was the Powell quartet. No. 2 from Ennis received special mention and all the others were given honorable mention.

Dr. Carraway made an excellent talk at the conclusion of the program, expressing his appreciation for the interests manifested by the white people of the community and telling of the growth of the contest project in the past four years.

He announced a donation, of $5 to the cause from Mrs. C. H. Mills and paid tribute to Mrs. Dockum for her interest, and he spoke of the beautiful flowers that decorated the church as having been brought and arranged by his partner, Dr. Leonard Smith's good wife and paid her a beautiful tribute of praise.

Helen Hall, the pianist, was presented by Dr. Carraway, and was lauded for her work in the community, the church and the school.

The benediction was given by the pastor.

THE WELL GROOMED LOOK.

BEAUTY IN DETAIL.

Many a woman who is not really good looking manages to seem so by being exquisitely groomed. Miss Forbes tells you how to achieve this appearance.

E. K. Forbes

The American woman is known all over the world as the best dressed of them all. This does not mean she wears the most expensive, nor the most original, nor even the smartest clothes. She doesn't. Owing to our magnificently organized fashion trades, American women all dress very much alike; by the time the style copyists have got to work, it is hard to tell which women on the street paid $12.50 for their suits and which $125. A cheap suit, worn with an air, will look the best, anyhow. Perhaps that is our secret—we wear our clothes with an air.

But, besides this, the well-groomed woman has carefully thought out her various combinations of clothing. Assuming she has but little money—she chooses one basic color, and two or three sharply contrasting colors to go with it, that also go with each other. So with the fashionable beige of this summer, she can wear green scarf and hat, brown bag and shoes, beige stockings and gloves. No monotony, but the green will also go with blue bag and shoes, if she wants, and all the colors will fit in with the flowered silk she reserves for warm days.

Being well groomed is a matter of perfect details, too. Eyebrows must never look ragged, nails must look always freshly manicured, stockings are never worn more than one day, shoes never put on a second time without being polished, heels are never run over. Soiled gloves are never worn; far better have washable cloth gloves than expensive but soiled leather.

Suits and dresses are kept freshly pressed and lingerie touches are never allowed to get mussed or soiled. Besides these details, she takes care with her makeup, which is never garish, and keeps her hair most beautifully brushed and shampooed and set.

Perfection of detail, in other words.

Mrs. B.—Wax has always been included in cream formulas, as the mixtures needed it to form a cream. Recently there has been a preference for thinner creams which means less wax, and you need not fear the little bit of do not wish the wax (and always that is now used. If you ways it should be the fine white beeswax), you may use plain oil for any purpose for which you ever use the cream. Some women prefer oil, as they have such sensitive skins that no cream suits them as well as plain oil of a high grade. Perfumes in the lotions and creams do not agree with some women's skins, and plain oil is preferred.

G. L.—The number of calories any one should have depends on whether or not they are exercising, or what their usual needs are. A man will require a greater number of calories than a woman, and a heavily built woman will need more than a slender or frail one. One a very close diet for an average sized woman there likely will be the need of 1,200 calories. That will be over the period when she is making reduction in weight, and not for a continuance over a long period of time.

Miss V.—At 21 years of age, whatever sagging there is to your facial muscles, is due to being a bit tired, or other temporary states that need not give you any worry. Some needed rest, a change in the seasons, when there is more chance for outdoor life, and your facial muscles will be firm in no time.

LIVERPOOL, May 6.—(AP)—Cotton, 15,000 bales including 200 American. Moderate business, in spot; prices eight points higher. Quotations in pence: American, strict good middling 8.34; good middling 8.04; strict middling 7.74; middling 7.40; strict low middling 7.24; low middling 6.74; strict good ordinary 6.24; good ordinary 5.84. Futures closed barely steady May 7.22; July 7.26; Oct. 7.19; Jan. 7.15; March 7.15.

New York Cotton Steady.

NEW YORK, May 6.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened barely steady, 1 lower to 4 higher, with steadier Liverpool cables partly offset by liquidation and commission house selling May 13.11; July 13.15; Oct. 12.95; Dec. 12.92; Jan. 12.96; March 13.00.

The opening was not a full response to advances in the Liverpool market and more favorable London advices with reference to settlement day there.

May was under light liquidation owing to the issuance of notices. Spot house selling was believed to represent southern hedging while offtake was poor and limited principally to the trade and locals.

The Far East was a seller here and other offerings came from Liverpool but continental orders were restricted owing to Ascension Day holiday.

July reacted from 13.10 to 13.14 and prices after the first half hour ranged to 5 points net lower.

Sentiment was influenced somewhat by expectations for a larger American crop than next season's prospective consuming requirements.

Showers were reported in the eastern half of the central belt and in the eastern belt.

Liverpool reported a more confident tone but speculative interest was small.

The market displayed a barely steady undertone early under local and New Orleans selling. Hedging was also more in evidence, part of it believed to be for Brazilian accounts. Demand seemed to have dried up owing partly to the easier undertone of the stock market. July sold off to 13.03 but as it approached the 13-cent level encountered a little resistance and end of holiday was 13.07.

Prices generally were 6 to 10 points lower.

New Orleans Cotton Higher.

NEW ORLEANS, May 6.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened two to four points net higher today in response to better foreign markets and some trade buying. There was a complete lack of selling pressure July contracts opened at 13.05, October at 12.91, December 12.90, January 13.01 and March 13.04.

The market fluctuated narrowly after the start and active positions declined a point or two from the opening figure and toward the end of the first half hour prices were steady and unchanged to four points up.

Liverpool reported a more confident tone there and a lessening of fear of a change in the United States gold policy. There was some Bombay buying reported, with offerings light.

Traders here displayed much interest in settlement day in the London stock market, but that factor had little appreciable effec on the market.

Spot demand was slow. Textiles were quiet.

Support lagged during the morning and the market drifted lower until near midsession active positions showed losses 5 to 8 points, compared with the previous close.

Favorable weather and crop reports held speculative demand in check and scattered selling carried July contracts off to 12.94, Oct. to 12.82, Dec. to 12.88 and March to 12.95.

The daily cotton regional weather summary reported temeratures near normal over the belt. Light to moderate rain fell in the eastern, central and extreme southwestern section, but the remainder of the belt was dry.

A cable from Buenos Aires said a second estimate placed the Argentine crop at 52,000 tons, or 32 per cent below the first estimate. Prolonger drought and extremely bad weather conditions in the cotton growing regions were said o be the main causes of the lower estimate.

coast, catching eight "excellent" kingfish.

A presidential message to White House headquarters here last night said the Potomac arrived late yesterday at Port Aransas, where the party caught 14 tarpon Monday, and were met by Mrs. Elliott Roosevelt, who is staying with friends near there.

The message made no mention of fishing again on arrival, but Corpus Christi reported the President and his aides were casting from a small boat until almost dark with the chief executive catching four six-pound kingfish and his four companions one each.

The Potomac anchored in the Corpus Christi ship channel for the night.

ARMY BILL

current peacetime record appropriation of $391,375,784.

The bill would let the war department purchase or contract for 513 airplanes in the next fiscal year, and start building at Tacoma, Wash., the first of a series of giant defensive air bases.

Funds are provided also to improve existing air bases, fields and depots.

Compared with an average of 156,000 enlisted men in the present year, the bill provides for 162,000 next year.

The house, overriding budget bureau recommendations, added $200,000 to funds for strengthening seacoast defenses for the continental United States and $300,000 each for the Canal Zone and the territories.

Corn Hits New High.

CHICAGO, May 6.—(AP)—Corn late today overtopped the high price record of the past 12 years.

May delivery of corn was bid up 2 3-8 cents a bushel to $1.35 1-8, giving evidence that arrivals of Argentine corn here have failed to lessen anxiety of traders who are short of corn to meet contract requirements in the next few weeks. Uncompleted May corn contracts now outstanding total about 5,000,000 bushels, with stocks of corn almost zero.

At the close, corn was unchanged to 1 5-8 higher, compared with yesterday's finish. May 1.34 1-4 3-8, July 1.20 1-2 3-4 wheat 5-8 off to 1-4 up. May 1.20 1-2, July 1.18 3-4 7-8, and oats varying from 1-4 decline to an equal gain.

GOVERNMENT SENDS TROOPS BARCELONA QUELL ANARCHISTS

UPRISING IN BARCELONA IS DECLARED STILL OUT OF CONTROL THURSDAY

PERPIGNAN, Franco-Spanish frontier, May 6.—(AP)—Four hundred persons have been killed and 1,000 wounded in the anarchist revolt at Barcelona, the Barcelona radio station announced at 5:40 p. m. (12:40 p. m. Eastern Standard time) today.

Those were casualties since Tuesday in ferocious fighting within the city, capital of autonomous Catalonia and now ordered under the military sway of the main Spanish government at Valencia.

Catalonia's government has supported Valencia and Madrid against the fascist insurgents since last July's rebellion.

At the hour of the broadcast the streets had become quiet, the announcement stated.

Earlier reports told of the dispatch to Barcelona of two strong forces by the main government to quell continuing disorders in the "war within a war."

PERPIGNAN, Franco-Spanish Frontier, May 6.—(AP)—Two strong forces have been sent to Barcelona by the Spanish Valencia government to quell an anarchist uprising still out of control in the city's streets, reports here said today.

Telephone and telegraph communications with Barcelona still were out, making it impossible to verify the reports directly.

Official Valencia advices said General Sebastian Pozas, government commander of the Guadalajara front, named as military commander in Catalonia, already had reached Barcelona and was getting things "fully in hand."

On the Catalan war front, the Valencia air ministry announced, government planes bombed insurgent positions at Zaragoza and destroyed a bridge to cut insurgent communications between Zaragoza and Zuera.

A force of 1,000 men was said to have started from Valencia, temporary seat of the Spanish government, to surpress the anarchist uprising and guerilla warfare in Barcelona in which more than 100 persons were reported killed with casualties still mounting.

Another column, the reports said, was withdrawn from the Aragon front by Luis Companys, president of Autanomous Catalonia, supporting Valencia's efforts to restore peace.

Reports on the border said government forces held control of the central port office in Barcelonia but that the anarchists continued to occupy the railroad station.

Only one train was allowed to leave the Catalan capital for France yesterday, the second day of the uprising, and carried only three passengers.

Government sources reported Gen. Jose Aranguren Roldan, commander of Catalan military forces, had been relieved of his rank when Valencia took over the preservation of public order and was succeeded by Gen. Sebastian Pozas, leader of government troops on the Guadalajara front.

Despite reports yesterday that a peaceful settlement of the anarchists' protests against orders to surrender their arms and dismissals from government posts, travelers reaching the border said revolutionist gangs in armored cars still roamed the streets.

An appeal by Catalonia's new governing council, organized yesterday with at least one anarchist member, asked "all to lay down their arms and forget everything before the grandeur of the goal to be obtained against fascism."

British advices direct from Barcelona said Antonio Sese, an official of the socialist-communist union General De Trabajo (UGT), who was named to the new provisional government, was killed in a new flare-up of fighting.

statement on March 22 in a letter to Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) declaring an increase in the c.urt's membership was likely to impair its efficiency.

He also referred today to the fact that the court has been able to act as a unit in dealing with all cases. Some proponents of the Roosevelt bill have suggested an enlarged court might be able to sit in two panels.

The jurisdictional act of 1925, the Chief Justice said, has made possible this consideration by all justices by limiting the type of cases brought before them.

"In this unique court of last resort," he said, "that sort of action is believed to be highly desirable. Every member of the court feels his personal responsibility and meets it in each case, save in the rare instances where a particular justice may be disqualified."

MOVIE STRIKE

Labor Council. American Federation of Labor group with which the striking craftsmen are affiliated. The proposal provided that:

1—All striking crafts return to work immediately without prejudice, and

2—Negotiations be conducted by representatives of each of the 11 striking unions for establishment of wage scales and working conditions.

"The strike is still on," said Charles Lessing, head of the Federated Motion Picture Crafts, which called the walkout. "I am in no way interested in that plan of settlement. It's a closed shop, signed, sealed and delivered, or we don't go back to work."

Shortly after rejection the settlement proposal, Lessing sent telegrams to general headquarters of the Painters' Union, requesting that pickets be stationed in front of movie theaters throughout the nation, and wired labor groups in all key cities, asking for co-operation in movie boycott and picketing.

Offer to Picket Theaters.

Speaking for the Federated Crafts, Charles Kimberlin said the strikers had received a commitment from a "powerful labor organization" he refused to name, "offering to picket within 36 hours every motion picture theater in the United States."

Strikers, attending a mass meeting in Hollywood, were offered pickets from the Los Angeles branch of the Committee for Industrial Organization and from the International Longshoremen's Association.

The announcement in New York of William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, that he was not certain whether he would support a proposed boycott of motin pictures by rganized labor, followed a call from John Brophy, CIO director in Washington, in which he asked the support of all labor groups for the movie strikers.

Don't Need Actors.

Discussing reports that negotiations between the producers and the Screen Actors' Guild, which are to be resumed tonight, had progressed satisfactorily, Kimberlin said:

"We dont' need the actors out on strike to win our fight for union recognition and a closed shop. Naturally, we'd like to have them with us, but we are receiving financial support from them, and I am sure we have their moral support. If they win their points in their disputes with the producers, we'll still have their financial support. If they lose them, we'll still have their moral support and perhaps their physical support."

Pat Casey, labor conciliator for the producers, said the next move in peace negotiations must be taken by the strike leadership, since the "required steps toward the establishment of a peaceful and equitable understanding have been taken by the producers."

Bus Strike Unsettled

LONDON, May 6.—(AP)—Complete stoppage of London's buses until after the coronation of King George VI next Wednesday grew more probable today when a court of inquiry failed to decide upon the justice of the 25,500 strikers' demands.

The court said evidence placed before it by the busmen to show they needed a seven and a half hour work day for health reasons was "inconclusive," but warranted further investigation.

In an inquiry shows their health is being affected, the board said, "immediate steps should be taken to remedy the situation."

Refinery Workers Vote on Union.

TEXAS CITY, May 6—(AP)—Pan-American Oil Refinery workers counted their votes today on a proposed constitution for a labor unin.

Balloting started last night. The proposed union will replace a company organization abandoned recently by the firm.

Refinery men of the area also attended a Committee for Industrial Organization meeting, part of the CIO drive to unionize the oil ndustry under its banners.

COLLISION IN FOG BETWEEN STEAMER AND SCHOONER

BOSTON, May 6.—(AP)—A collision in a fog between the Italian steamer Maria and the coal-loaded schooner Edward R. Schmith of New York 45 miles from Boston was reported today by coastguard headquarters. All hands [illegible] and the steamer was towing the schooner to Boston.

A wireless from the Maria, picked up by the Radio Marine corporation at Chatham, said the collision occurred in a fog, that the schooner's jib boom was broken and that the coal boat was leaking.

"We are 45 miles from Boston," the message continued, "All the crew safe. The Maria damaged slightly on the starboard side."

Tre report advised that the Italian consul be notified and was signed by "Iviana, master."

TAXLOR CASE

I demand that they be disclosed immediately.

"Unfortunately my daughter, Mrs. Fillmore, is very bitter against me because circumstances last summer forced me to take rather drastic steps for my daughter's own good."

Last summer Mrs. Shelby brought an insanity complaint against Mrs. Fillmore, which was later dismissed.

The deposition made in the civil suit quotes Mrs. Fillmore as saying:

Protected Her Mother.

"I protected her (Mrs. Shelby) against the Taylor murder case."

"Is it your contention, is that correct, that your mother killed William Desmond Taylor," asked Mrs. Shelby's attorney in the deposition.

"I don't have to answer that," replied Mrs. Fillmore.

The attorney, Clyde Murphy, notified Fitts in writing of the deposition.

This morning Miss Minter declar. l "I've been called on to tell everything so many times, I don't see what there is now I can add to what's been said."

"I'm sure I don't know what they want of me this time," said Mrs. Shelby at her hotel.

"I've been questioned by grand juries before, and it really didn't amount to much."

Grand Jury Subpoenas.

Fitts said grand jury subpoenas have been issued for Mrs. Shelby, Miss Minter and Mrs. Fillmore.

Mrs. Fillmore was questioned last night by Fitts and then placed under the protection of a woman investigator until the grand jury could start its new inquiry today.

Fitts said information would be given the jury which was contained in a deposition made by Mrs. Fillmore as part of a civil suit against her mother. Mrs. Fillmore is seeking to recover $58,000 which she claims Mrs. Shelby took from a safe-deposit box in a downtown bank some time prior to August 5, 1936.

Mrs. Fillmore and her mother had access to the box in joint tenancy, but Mrs. Fillmore in her action claims all of the money as her own.

A rift between the two women occurred last year when Mrs. Shelby swore out an insanity complaint against her daughter. After a court hearing, Mrs. Fillmore was released from the psychopathic ward of the general hospital.

Two Diaries.

The district attorney said two diaries were found by his investigators at Mary Miles Minter's Beverly Hills home and would be read to the grand jury.

William Desmond Taylor, whose real name was William Deame Tanner, directed Miss Minter in several pictures and was the friend of many film notables of his day.

He was shot in the back and killed on the evening of February 1, 1922, the slaying being discovered the next morning by his negro houseman when he entered the apartment.

The last person known to have talked with Taylor before his death was the late Mabel Normand.

Police began a long and fruitless search for Edward Sands, Taylor's missing valet, who had been discharged by the director after a series of robberies in his bachelor quarters.

Fitts is the third district attorney to delve into the case.

Three months ago, angry at the repeated publication of the assertion that a pink slip nightgown with her initials was found in Taylor's dresser, Miss Minter went to police headquarters and challenged officers to produce it from the case exhibits.

Police could find no record of such a garment and Miss Minter declared, "this malicious rumor has followed me through the years; I'm glad it is disproved."

LEGISLATURE

borrow money through pledging delinquent taxes as security.

The house ordered a legislative investigation of alleged "barbaric and inhuman" treatment of inmates of "certain eleemosynary institutions." The investigating committee of three house members was asked to report before the end of the session.

The senate sent the house a bill creating a board to lease the National Guard campsite at Palacios for oil drilling. An amendment provided that oil development there would be subject to railroad commission regulations.

To Probe Treatment Given State Wards

AUSTIN, May 6.—(AP)—The house today ordered a legislative investigation of alleged "barbaric and inhuman" treatment of inmates by "certain unscrupulous employes of certain eleemosynary institutions."

The committee of three house members was asked to study conditions at the various institutions and report before the end of the current session.

Rep. Leland M. Johnson of Waxahachie, author of the investigation resolution, said he had information that an employe of the institution here "broke the leg of a feeble-minded child with a stick of stovewood."

The resolution charged that there were "reports from reliable sources to the effect that certain inmates of certain eleemosynary institutions have been subject to unbelievable barbaric and inhuman treatment at the hands of certain unscrupulous employes."

Child Marriage Bill.

AUSTIN, May 6.—(AP)—Rep. J. Bryan Bradbury of Abilene obtained overwhelming house permission today to introduce a bill intended to reduce Texas child marriages to a minimum.

The proposal would raise the minimum legal marriageable age for a girl from 14 to 16 years. It would not alter the minimum age of 16 for boys.

Bradbury said child marriages were becoming "a fad" and something should be done to halt their spread. The vote to permit the bill's introduction was 107 to 2.

House for Court Plan.

AUSTIN, May 6.—(AP)—Approval of President Roosevelt's plan to reorganize the supreme court was on record in the Texas house today.

The controversial issue, debated intermittently since the general session began, came back on the floor yesterday.

Previously the house had declined to take a stand on either side of the issue and the senate had overwhelmingly condemned the proposal.

The endorsement came as a amendment ot a resolution requesting congress not to increase the gold content of the dollar and was approved, 75 to 54.

Since the house's previous decision not to express itself the vote in a special congressional election in this district showed a majority of about 3 to 1 for four candidates favoring the judiciary reorganization as against two opposing it.

couple are expected to leave the Chateau. Redecoration of their prospective honeymoon retreat in Southern Austria, Wasserleonburg Castle, will be completed about June 1. Edward rented the Austrian Castle for $400 a month.

Plans for the honeymoon, it was said authoritatively, were still uncertain. One project understood to be under consideration would take the Duke and Duchess on a good will tour of African and other British colonies.

Providing the government approved, Edward might become an "elder statesman." His career as the Empire's "traveling salesman" while he was Prince of Wales qualified him to become again a good will ambassador.

Invited to Reside in Forney

FORNEY, (Kaufman County), Tex., May 6.—(AP)—The Forney Lions Club adopted a resolution today inviting the Duke of Windsor to make his home in Forney and join the Lions club here.

The invitation was issued after press dispatches indicated the Duke preferred to remain in Austria while the Duchess-to-be, Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson, desired to reside in Canada.

COMPROMISE PLAN CLEMENCY SYSTEM SEEN IN ACTIONS

SENATE DEBATES GOVERNOR'S ACTION; HOUSE REFUSES ADJOURNMENT MOVE

AUSTIN, May 4.—(AP)—The senate approved today an emergency appropriation for the state board of pardons and paroles and in the bill was seen a probable solution of a long controversy over that agency.

The bill appropriating $19,000 for expenses of the board until the end of this fiscal year next August specified one member should be located at Huntsville, site of the penitentiary, and two in Austin. The member in Huntsville would have authority to employ two assistants to investigate convicts and determine eligibility for clemency.

The controversy over location of the board has been one of the sharpest before the legislature. Because of difference over this and other matters, Gov. James V. Allred vetoed an enabling act setting up a new clemency system and prescribing duties of the board under a constitutional amendment adopted last summer.

Senator Gordon Burns of Huntsville, who has fought for location of the board at Huntsville, said the arrangement would be satisfactory to him and probably would be the basis for a permanent plan, although he did not expect, because of constitutional inhibitions, a new enabling act to be introduced at this session.

Debate Governor's Action.

Meanwhile, the senate engaged in long debate over whether Governor Allred had the right to veto joint rules of the legislature as he recently did. The governor said at the time the rules permitted a minority of the senate to block the will of a majority of the legislature and the people.

One view was that the legislature had the power to make its own rules and the governor no authority to interfere. Opposed to this was the view that all concurrent resolutions, except those providing for sine die adjournment, under the constitution, required gubernatorial approval.

New proposed joint rules ware adopted by the house. They would provide that bills pending on Thursday retained precedence until acted upon.

The senate's attempt to enact a universal fishing license law through an amendment to a local bill failed when Robert W. Calvert, speaker of the house, ruled the amendment was not germane. That left the bill dead unless some other action should be taken.

The house defeated tow efforts to provide for adjournment of the long session next week. Dates suggested were May 11 and 14.

AUSTIN, May 4.—(AP)—The house of representatives received from the senate a bill requiring a $1.10 license for all persons over 17 who would fish outside the county of their residence.

The proposal, approved by the upper legislative chamber yesterday, as a committee substitute for a bill applying to McLennan county only, provided also an artificial lure license would not be necessary if the fisherman had purchased a general license.

A general hunting license, modeled along similar lines, was passed to third reading by the senate.

Oil Wells Library Fund.

AUSTIN, May 4.—(AP)—The educational appropriation bill recommended to the house appropriations committee by a sub-group includes an $18,000 annual allotment to the University of Texas for a state library of oil well samples.

Rep. Penrose Metcalfe of San Angelo, sponsor of the allotment expressed confidence the main committee would endorse it when it considers the educational budget later in the week.

The bureau of economic geology of the University would use the money to catalogue and preserve the large number of drilling samples donated to it. Metcalf said such records would be very valuable in future oil explorations.

Utilities Regulation Bill Believed Dead

AUSTIN, May 4.—(AP)—A waning session and the fact similar proposals had met death in a senate committee today augured poorly for passage of a house-approved utilities regulation bill.

The proposal, engrossed by the lower chamber yesterday, would create a state commission to supervise utility corporations. Advocates failed to obtain the necessary four-fifths permission to place it on final passage.

A senate committee sent to a sub-group with instructions to report by Friday a proposed constitutional amendment which would give a four-year term to precinct, county and district officeholders including legislators.

The action, in the opinion of some, lessened chances of submission of the proposal to the people in August.

A bill empowering the state tax board to equalize property valuations in the various counties was killed, 64 to 61, by the house. The body, however, sent the senate a proposal to license architects.

Would Annex Towns.

AUSTIN, May 4—(AP)—Rep. Henry Hull of Fort Worth introduced a bill today permitting that city to annex towns of less than 5,000 population regardless of whether they are incorporated.

He said its purpose was to prevent any section from avoiding annexation through incorporating.

Pope Pius Told Hitler Catholics Must Be Let Alone

VATICAN CITY, May 4.—(AP)—Pope Pius XI told Adolf Hitler today the Catholic church must be left free to fulfill its mission in Nazi Germany.

The pontiff's reply to the recent German church note, which itself was a reply to the Pope's pre-Easter encyclical accusing the German government of violating the 1933 church-state concordate, was delivered by Engenio, Cardinal Pacelli to the German ambassador to the Holy See, Diego Von Bergen.

Vatican sources said the note left the way open for further conversations about the concordat, which let up separate spheres of church and state influence in the Reich.

WOMEN AND CHILDREN ARE EVACUATED FROM BESIEGED BILBOA

BILBAO, Spain, May 6.—(AP)—Two Spanish liners loaded with 5,000 women and children bound for refuge in France steamed out of the Biscayan war zone today under protection of the British navy's bristling guns.

The Habana and Izarra headed for Bordeaux with the battleship Royal Oak and two British destroyers to convoy them.

The insurgent cruiser Almirante Cervera hove out of the mist in an effort to overtake the refugee craft, while still in vie wof the shore but the Royal Oak formed a protective flank.

The insurgent warship withdrew and disappeared in the distance.

The insurgent destroyer Velasco hovered in the background but returned also to cover under the mists.

The exiles from the besieged Basque capital, two-thirds of them small children, boarded the liners in the early morning. The children had waited for many hours at the long piers, and were drowsy-eyed—falling asleep as soon as they boarded the ships.

Each child carried a printed card with his name and destination, held by a string around his neck. There were but few sad partings between parents and children—many of the parents had died under insurgent air attacks or fighting in the trenches.

The Habana, carrying nearly 4,000 of the refugees, was painted with huge red crosses on her sides and flew the Red Cross flag.

Meanwhile insurgent air raids against the capital increased in number if not in intensity. Four times before noon, sirens wailed and sent the population scurrying to shelters, but the bombs dropped at the outskirts of the city.

Steadfast under a hail of bombs and machine gun fire, sturdy Basque militiamen tightened their grip on the entrapped insurgents who with their backs to the sea, faced slow starvation unless the siege within a siege was cracked.

ROY MOORE WINNER FIRST PLACE ESSAY CONTEST FOR 1937

Four winners in the Civitan club's 1936-37 high school better citizenship essay contest were announced at chapel period Wednesday morning by Robert Cason, president of the club. The students have been working on their essays the past month or more.

Roy Moore, senior, won the first prize, with his carefully planned and well written essay upon the subject, "Democracy or Dictatorship?" When he turned in his paper and each was numbered his received number thirteen.

Moore read his essay in chapel. In addition to a cash prize, his name and class will be engraved on a large silver loving cup with the names of eight other students who have won the contest since its inception in 1929.

Mary Lou Smith's essay, upon the subject, "Before the Bar of American Democracy" or "The Essentials of a Good Citizen," won second place. As a junior last year her essay won first place.

Third and Fourth Prize.

Jean Smith's essay, "A Citizen's Duty," was awarded third prize, and the fourth prize was awarded to Glenna Watson. Her subject was "Why Does Our Form of Government Provide So Much Greater Liberty, Freedom and Opportunity for Happiness Than That of a Communistic or Dictator Form of Government?"

Honorable mention was given to John Slate, Mary Jo Williams and Helen Haste for their essays.

The four students placing first will be guests of the Civitan club at its regular noon luncheon Thursday at the Navarro Hotel.

It was announced that 450 high school students entered essays in the contest, through their English classes, and 37 of them were passed on to the judges for final reading. President Cason said the judges had difficulty in determining the four places, because seven of the essays were exceptionally fine.

The all-time list of essay contest winners, since 1928-29 include Calvin Cook, a junior, 1928-29; Pauline Chrisman, a sophomore, 1929-30; Muriel Goodwin, a senior, 1930-31; Frank Cheney, a senior, 1931-32; Anna Mary Pierce, a junior, 1932-33; Willie Robinson, a senior, 1933-34; Vivian Blackburn, a senior, 1934-35; Mary Lou Smith, a junior, 1935-36, and Roy Moore, 1936-37.

Be Sent to Birmingham.

The essays winning this year's contest will be sent to the Civitan International headquarters in Birmingham, Ala., to be judged for further recognition.

Civitan members attending todays' chapel period in addition to President Cason, were L. K. Carraway, Ed Wendorf, C. T. Banister, R. A. Purifoy, Elbert Neeley, Jack Paul, O. F. Allen and O. P. Douglas, high school principal.

The student body elected Christine Jackson editor and Bonnie Ruth Slauson business-manager of the 1938 edition of "The Corsican," high school annual.

Andrew Armistead, debate coach, awarded letters to five students making the debate team, including Alvin Marks, George Labban, Joyce Gentry, Louise Blackwell and Mary Lou Smith.
